TAIPEI CYCLE d&i awards 2021 by iF — the results are in

After a two-day jury session, international experts from the bicycle and design-related industries had honored 38 entries with the TAIPEI CYCLE d&i awards 2021 — six among them received the gold award for outstanding design innovation and performance.

From 6 to 7 January 2021, jurors from Germany, U.S.A. and Taiwan gathered at Taipei Nangang Exhibition center to decide on the winners of the TAIPEI CYCLE d&i awards 2021. 38 outstanding innovations have been selected. Among them, the five most exceptional products are granted with a special honor, the TAIPEI CYCLE gold award 2021. The special award Gold Award – Young Enterprise goes to one of the startup companies established after 1st January 2017. All these outstanding products represent the future trends of the bicycle industry and the highest design innovation of latest time.

Nearly 110 entries from all over the world participated in this year’s TAIPEI CYCLE d&i awards. Among the five categories, the strongest categories were parts and components, and cycling accessories. Competition categories also included complete bicycles, e-bikes and drive units, and smart cycling services.

About TAIPEI CYCLE d&i awards by iF

TAIPEI CYCLE, a well-reputed event within the bicycle industry, was established in 1988. Over 30 years, the show has brought together manufacturing and R&D resources, as well as established Taiwan’s leading position in the global bicycle industry. Design and R&D have always been a constant source of competition for the industry. Hence, beginning from 2012, the Taiwan External Trade Development Council and Taiwan Bicycle Association commissioned iF DESIGN ASIA to organize the TAIPEI CYCLE d&i awards. So far, it has been held for ninth editions, establishing a design and creativity interaction and exhibition platform for the global bicycle industry. In recent years, the event has integrated emerging fields such as cloud big data, smart IoT, and the aesthetics of living as competition categories, with the goal of promoting more diversified and consumer-oriented industry applications and development.
